

ABSTRACT

Hydrolytically stable polymer dispersions include ester linkages protected by hydrophobic alkyl groups which may be formed from polyester and alkyd polymer having ester linkages formed from secondary and/or tertiary hydroxy groups.